

Project #1- Realistic Fiction Author Study

Choose 3-5 characters from a realistic fiction story. In the case of our class, we are reading realistic fiction novels by Andrew Clements. On the front of the card, put the character's name, sketch an illustration, and write down the role your character had in the story. On the back of the card, write down why he or she was important to the story, and include a quote from the character.

You have just read a realistic fiction novel. Now you are going to write a newspaper review about your story. Before writing your review, try to find some book reviews kids have written in either newspapers or magazines.
